

This is the contingent of American Negroes now under arms in France. Among them are members of Colonel Haywood's 15th Infantry, now the 369th. Two Negroes from this regiment, Henry Johnson and Needham Roberts, whose pictures appear in the inserts below, were recently decorated with the French war cross for bravery in action, and the entire organization has distinguished itself in recent engagements.

International

In the centre of this group of negro riveters is Charles Knight, to whom has been awarded the international prize for riveting offered by Lord Northcliffe.

Press Illustrating.

An improvised encampment of French troops.

Theo. Mousseau.